THE HERALD.

JNO. P. BARRETT, Editor.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1876.

This number of the HERALD closes our second volume. We launch into the third volume on 10th of January next. We earnestly request all the citizens of this county to give us such patronage as will enable us to make the HERALD a live wide awake paper. Its sprightliness and enterprise will be increased in proportion to the patronage given it and if it is not sufficiently patronized it will suspend as certain as gun is iron. So it remains with the people to determine whether the paper will continue or not.

Big Bonanza!

We will send the Hartford HERALD from now till 1st of January 1878 for the small sum of $1.50. Subscribe at once and save an extra month.

Boston elected a Democratic mayor recently by a majority of 2000. Wonder if those New England Puritans were not intimidated or bulldozed?

Old Ben Butler says: There is so much suspicion of fraud and corruption attached to the election that the people will not be satisfied with either Hayes or Tilden, and he wants a law passed requiring the race to be run over again.

The situation is unchanged except in Florida. The Supreme Court has directed a canvass of the vote to take place to-day, which gives the State to the Democrats. This ought to be conclusive as every one of the Supreme Court Judges are Republicans and would not be influenced to this course from a partisan motive.

MR. C. H. HILL of Boston, formerly First Assistant Attorney General, and who voted for Hayes, says, "He has no doubt that Tilden was honestly elected president, and he denounces as infamous the attempt of the Louisiana and Florida Returning Boards to count him out. His opinion is that the separate act of the Senate in declaring Hayes elected would be absolutely null and void." Mr. Hill was a Bristol man, and believes that a majority of the Bristol men of Massachusetts think as he does.

JOHN P. BARRETT, Esq., editor of the Hartford HERALD, was on a flying visit to this city last Friday. He reports the business of his office gradually on the loom, and proposes to supply his print shop, at an early day, with one of Gordon's improved quarto-medium job presses. The HERALD is a live country journal, and we are glad to learn of its prosperity.—Owensboro Examiner.

We are as heartily glad to learn that our old friend J. P. Barrett, Esq., is again at the helm of the Hartford (Ky.) Herald as we were pained to learn of its transfer to Robertson, and we sincerely hope the people of Ohio county will now give the paper such support as will retain Bro. Barrett in position. He writes an able editorial, a new, lively and interesting local, and presents a paper worthy the patronage of any community.—Lincoln (Ill.) Times.

Boss RULLDOZERS.—Says an exchange: "Boss GRANT, Don Cameron, and Grandfather Taft are the champion bulldozers of the United States. Grant bulldozes State Legislatures. Grandfather Taft, through his deputy marshals, bulldozes individuals in the South who are obnoxious to the carpet bagger; while Don Cameron supplies the soldiers who keep Democratic members of a Legislature from taking their seats, and to support Taft's marshal in their arbitrary work of dragging men from their beds to prison upon trumped-up charges, for the purpose of political intimidation."

A PRECEDENT.—We have a precedent from Georgia, which may help our Republican friends to a solution of the Oregon elector imbroglio. In the year 1869, when the Legislature met and attempted to organize, a great many of the members elect could not take the ironclad oath. One of these was David Goff, of Randolph county, and the Republicans being in power at the time, decided that all votes thrown for him were thrown for an ineligible person, and therefore thrown away; and James B. Jackson a negro Republican who received several hundred votes less than Goff, was declared legally elected. Accordingly he was sworn in and served during the term. Of course this precedent, being against the present necessities of the Republican party will be repudiated.

To the Business Men of Ohio County.

The HERALD is the only paper published in this county, and a majority of its readers are citizens of this and adjoining counties, and its circulation is principally among that class of our citizens where custom is worth seeking for.

The trade of the business men in this county is confined to retail, and we sincerely believe that advertising in our paper is the surest, safest, and cheapest way to secure that trade.

Nothing is ever lost by judicious advertising. Let the people know what you have for sale, and they will come to you to supply their wants.

We hope our Merchants and business men of all classes will see and appreciate the importance of making their wants known through the columns of the HERALD.

Our terms are low and our paper circulates in every part of the county and the money invested in advertising with as will yield the investor a fair remuneration. Try it and see.

New and exciting stories are beginning every week or two.

State and local agents are being appointed everywhere, but let each community form a club at once and send on for the paper. Having passed successfully through two of the hardest years we shall ever see, it now challenges the admiration and unlimited support of the people. The price is $3 a year, but clubs of four and upwards get it for $2.50. Address JOHN P. PUBLISHING CO., 520 Pine St. St. Louis Mo.

Do you take The Sunny South?

If not, send for it immediately. It is the universal favorite, and all Southerners are proud of it. Let a large club be raised without delay in this community. It is the only illustrated literary weekly in the South, and the press and people everywhere unite in pronouncing it the equal in every respect of any similar publication in America. The best literary talent of the whole country, North and South is writing for it, and it has something fresh for all classes of readers. Its stories are superior in literary merit, and equal in thrilling interest, to those of any other paper, and its essays upon all subjects are from the best minds of the age.

In addition to thrilling new stories, a series of brilliant articles will soon begin on the CAMPAIGNS AND BATTLES OF THE ARMY OF TENNESSEE, by COLONEL B. W. FROBEL, a distinguished military engineer of that army in all its trying times. These papers will explain all the movements of Generals Johnston Hood and Sherman. Don't miss any of the numbers. They will read like a fascinating romance.

General Local News.

The Hop at the Hartford House last night was a grand success.

Col. O. P. Johnson came home Sunday, to spend Christmas with his family and old friends.

MASIER CHARLIE PENDLETON, who has been absent attending school at Russellville is home spending Christmas.

We had a Christmas visit from Mr. F. B. Wise of Owensboro. Flem is a prince among millers. We were sorry to lose him as a citizen.

MISS MARY PENDLETON, daughter of Dr. J. E. Pendleton of this place, who has been visiting relatives in Shively, for several weeks past, returned home last Saturday evening.

THE scholars of the Hartford Male and Female Seminary, will give an exhibition at the Court House, Friday night. Let's all go.

It is said there was a "spirit" at the fire Monday night, at least an apparition in white was seen making two forty times down Main street. Wonder what it was?

THE Hop at the Hartford House last night was quite an enjoyable affair. The belles and beaux were out in full force, and joy and mirth reigned supreme.

GEORGE SULLINGER, Esq., was back to his old home this week to enjoy his Christmas. Those that have ever lived here once, will stray back occasionally.

MISS LIZZIE WALKER, one of Hartford's fair daughters, who has been attending Depay College, New Albany, returned home last Wednesday evening, to spend Christmas with her parents.

DR. L. G. AIMENDT of Masonville came back to his old home to spend Christmas. Louis is looking well and we are glad to learn of his successful practice in his new location.

A MAN by the name of Wm Boggs, was killed near Rockport, on Tuesday of last week. He was driving a team and fell out in front and got so badly hurt that he died in a very short time. We understand he was under the influence of liquor.

MRS. SHROADER, wife of our friend, Adam Shroader in Sulphur Springs neighborhood, happened to a serious accident a few days ago. In walking she stepped on an icy place and slipped and fell very hard, bruising her severely.

MR. H. H. King formerly foreman of this office is on a visit here now. He is looking remarkably well and says he is glad to see Hartford once more. He is now domiciled at Waverly Ky, where he says he is trying to eke out a living by selling "rags."

THE Frankfort Yeoman comes to us done up in its Christmas "duds," and it is so proud of its new dress that it has swelled out so large that we scarcely recognized it. It always was a good paper and if its new clothes and liberal patronage don't give it the big-head and make it proud and lazy, its influence and usefulness will be greater than ever.

A. B. BENNETT, Esq., of No Creek neighborhood gave a nice dinner Christmas day to his children and grand children and several other guests being present. We were favored with a pressing invitation for self and better half and regret that we could not attend. It was no doubt a pleasant reunion and all passed off joyfully.

JUDGE ED COOPER, of Beaver Dam, got robbed last week of about ten dollars. We do not know the particulars and depended on our Beaver Dam correspondent to give us particulars, but we suppose he got too much Christmas egg-nogg to write this week, and hence our readers are denied the pleasure of perusing one of his rich, spicy, entertaining letters.

MR. JOHN O'FLAHERTY, placed this office under obligations for kind assistance received this week.

Another big Blaze in Hartford.

On last Monday night about midnight the quiet of the still night was broken by the shrill exciting cry of fire resounding throughout the length and breadth of the town. It proved to be the Arkenburgh tobacco stemmery on fire. It made a very bright, hot fire and the snow on the surrounding buildings was all that saved the town from a fearful conflagration. There are two tracks in the snow leading to the corner of the building next to the bridge, and leading away from it again, and it appears from the tracks that the parties leaving stopped twice, no doubt to look back and see how the fire was progressing. It was undoubtedly set on fire. There have many mysterious fires happened here in the last few years and we no doubt have an incendiary in our midst. By all means let us take steps to ferret the scoundrel out. We are not advised whether there was any insurance on the property. Loss, $2,000.

Our citizens had better turn their attention to insurance. The Royal Insurance Company offers the very best security and indemnity against fire, by fire that can be procured. Barrett & Bro., are its agents at this place.

One of our jovial young men thought it would be awful nice to play "Santa Claus." So Christmas eve, he dressed himself in an imaginary "Santa Claus" costume, and after visiting the toy shops and groceries and getting a full load and also taking a wet drop to keep out the cold, he proceeded to his brothers residence at a late hour and crept softly in and began depositing his gifts. The said brother was aroused from his slumbers and hearing a noise and not being into the secret called out, "who's there?" No answer came, whereupon he sprang out of bed and seizing a loaded shot gun sang out in an exciting voice, "if you don't speak I'll shoot," and he spoke. Did you say his name was Jim Tom?

New Hotel.

That wide-awake energetic, irrepressible, never-tiring business man L. J. Lyon, has rented the Hotel on the corner opposite the Court House formerly known as the Crow House. He has repaired it papered the walls, refurnished it and has fixed it up in elegant style, and will open out a first-class Hotel and restaurant next Monday. He is determined to keep a first-class house and solicits the patronage of the public.

JIM SCANTLIN was brought here and lodged in jail last week, charged with attempting to burn up Smith and Doherty's coal mine, near Rockport. He got on his muscle last Friday and tried to jump the jail up. He was properly chained down and put out in a cold dungeon as reward for his conduct.

Photographic Art Gallery.

J. Henry Doerr has just completed a new building on cor. 12 and Market streets, Louisville, especially designed for an Art Gallery. His building was erected for the sole purpose of Photography. Life size Crayons at $25.00. All other pictures in the finest style at reduced rates. Don't fail to give him a call.

Quick Work.

Monday morning, December 18, 1876 found our enterprising citizen W. H. Moore without an ice-house. The tree was cut from the stump, taken to the mill, the lumber sawn, house built, filled with ice, and all completed by Saturday evening, December 23, 1876. Mr. Moore means business when he goes to work.

Hartford House.

This Hotel under the management of Mr. W. T. King, is fast becoming a popular resort. Mr. K. has made many changes in the internal arrangement of the house. A new cook room has been made out of a part of the dining room and furnished with good cooking range and is under the management of one of the best cooks about Hartford, Jesse Moseley, who understands the culinary art thoroughly.

A nice wash-room has been cut off from the public room. A cigar and tobacco stand has also been placed in the public room.

We advise our friends and readers to give this house a trial and see if they don't get their money's worth.

Not disagreeable, hardly more bitter than lager beer, and much more satisfactory and pleasant. Simmon's Liver Regulator can be taken at any time, without interfering with business or pleasure. It is so gentle, safe, and such a good digester, that it is often used after a hearty meal, to settle the food and relieve any apprehension that the meal may disagree with you.

Letter From Rev. W. W. Cook.

Editor Herald:

If you will be kind enough to give me a small space in your most excellent paper, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to the people of Hartford and Hartford circuit, for their generosity, liberality and kind regards to myself and family during my sojourn in their midst. I came to this County last year comparatively a stranger, but I soon discovered that I was among a warm hearted and intelligent people. I have commenced the labors of another year in their midst, my prayer is, that we may have access to the hearts of the people and success in the accomplishment of good. Last Sabbath I traveled seven miles through a snow storm to Liberty church, tried to preach, took dinner with John Lynch, Esq., a nice family, a clever gentleman, came home the same evening through the storm, very much fatigued and somewhat low spirited, but in the morning found myself refreshed and strengthened by the rest afforded during the night. On opening the front door, what an agreeable surprise, there set a large basket full of nice Christmas presents for my family and self, too many good things to itemize. Suspicion rests upon Master Godfrey McHenry as being the bearer of these nice presents. Many thanks to him, and his kind parents, who we suppose took an interest in this matter.

Next there came three little angels, (they will be angels some day I hope) they were little girls, Misses Mary Taylor, Mary Tribble and Miss Cosby, with another basket full of presents oh, so nice, and the very things that the preacher and his family needed. I don't know how the angels looked that came from Heaven and baked a cake for the prophet of God, under the juniper tree that lasted him forty days and forty nights, but I know how these little girls looked. They did look so nice and happy, and their visits made others happy. Many thanks to them and their kind parents. The door being shut again, my family engaged in making an inventory of our nice presents I myself opened the door, and there set a box. I like to have stepped right in or on it, I saw a colored friend making his way from the gate, I asked who sent this box here. He answered, a member of your church, I said, God bless that member. I wish we had a million of just such. The box taken in and of course opened, and I must say, there were so many beautiful, nice and useful things in it. My wife said, Mr Cook I don't think I can leave home to-day. I remarked that we were under promise to take dinner with Squire Alex Bennett and we must comply. This box contained some of the nicest presents that we have ever received. Suspicion rests upon Bro. Wayne Griffin and his excellent wife, many thanks to them for this token of kind regard. Of course we went out to Bro. Bennett's to attend the reunion of his children and grand children. All his children living were present and all his grand children, twenty in number. Too much cannot be said of the good dinner, prepared by Brother and Sister Bennett, for their children. God grant that it may only be an emblem of the reunion of their family in Heaven.

NEVER NEGLECT A COLD

A slight cold while unpleasant and annoying is seldom treated as a serious matter, and yet how often do we find it when neglected terminating in chronic catarrh, bronchitis, consumption, and kindred fatal diseases. No cold or cough should be allowed to take its own course, but nature should receive timely assistance in warding off the fatal consequence that may result from neglect. For this purpose that renowned remedy, DR. RADCLIFFE'S SEVEN SEALS or GOLDEN WONDER is without an equal. Thousands have used it for coughs, colds, bronchitis and consumption, and with singular unanimity attest its marvelous efficacy.

Numerous certificates of the complete cures of long standing cases of catarrh and bronchitis, after all other remedies had been tried in vain, are in possession of the proprietors of the GOLDEN WONDER.

Will we get a fair count? Yes. Carry your grain to W. H. MOORE's splendid Grist Mill at Hartford and you are sure to get a fair count, and full yield. Flour, Meal, Bran etc. always on hand, for sale at prices to suit the times.

Wanted fifty Beef Hides, for which we will pay cash.

Z. WAYNE GRIFFIN.

NEW HYMNS—LATEST OUT. A neat and convenient volume, entitled SPIRITUAL HYMNS, is just from the press. It confidently claims to be the best adapted to all religious meetings-prayer-meetings, praise-meetings protracted-meetings, Sunday-schools, etc. —embracing, as it does, the old and the new hymns that are most pure, inspiring, helpful and scriptural in sentiment, and most used in all parts of the country and among all denominations.

A large number of the hymns in this valuable collection are those sung in the Moody and Sankey meetings in England, New York, Philadelphia, and now in Chicago. The book is the result of twenty years' experience in the publication of religious literature, and in pastoral and evangelistic labor, and is believed to be the best adapted, of any convenient-sized, neat and cheap work in the market, for pulpit use, home use, prayer and praise-meetings, anniversaries, Christmas, Christmases, Sunday-schools, all special occasions, etc. With the hymns of this book there are nearly all of the best of both the old and the new tunes—the tunes now most used in all churches. Price, wholesale bound in heavy, neat, durable board, ten copies for $3.00, and same rates for larger orders. Sample copies will be sent for thirty cents. In leather rep binding, forty cents per copy. Address.

H. Y. RUSH, Dayton, Ohio.

To R. B. Hayes—Confidential.

[Cincinnati Enquirer.]

After all, it appears that you are more to be pitied than blamed, to be regarded more in sorrow than in anger.

While your party, for purposes of its own, has held your body up as a shield between itself and the people, who have said they do not want either yourself or your party, you have been loosing the noblest offer of immortal fame and affection that history has proffered any American since the days when George Washington waived his chances of undue political position. We do not say that your circumstances and Washington's are precisely similar, nor ever analogous, but merely you might have been awarded credit in history for a similar disposition to resign power to the people, to whom it belongs of right. To you, personally, it must necessarily be a small achievement to have been listed in future annals as one of a long line of Presidents, a mere item in a catalogue of chronological facts; to have your name conned by school boys together with that of Martin Van Buren, James K. Polk, Franklin Pierce, and the interminable line to be stretched out to the crack of doom, like those soverigns that Macbeth pass by. We do not intend to disparage those gentlemen nor any President we have had, or may hereafter have; but there are in our national history other names more illustrious than theirs, though their happy possessors never achieved the Presidency—even the names of their defeated competitors. The name of John Quincy Adams is more likely to be remembered from his brilliant record in the halls of Congress than from the fact that he was a chronological item in the White House. The name of Henry Clay, who "would rather be right than President," is at least as bright and enduring as that of Polk; and that of Winfield Scott will last as long as Pierce's. It may be true that you had not the shining record of Adams or Clay in debate, nor the eminent fame of Winfield Scott in the field; neither one nor the other to rescue you from impending oblivion. But fortune has tendered you an opening for an action more glorious and immortal than any of theirs. It was not so much what Cincinnati did as what he did not that made him great. And so it was with Washington and so it might have been with you. You have been named as the leader of your party and the purer portion of that party have declared you a man to lead in fact, and not to be led by its baser elements. You had but to assert your leadership, and to say to those baser elements that you could not countenance the devious and subversive means by which they propose to defeat popular sovereignty and bring it into ridicule, by utilizing Returning Boards in one State and rejecting them in another. The conspirators might not have obeyed you, as they are unaccustomed to obey; but the whole mass of the American people would have risen to sustain you. For you to have done this would not have required even an exertion of magnanimity; for not only would it have elevated your name into one of the noblest landmarks in history, even in other ages and other climes, but if you craved the Presidency, there is not envy enough in this land to have prevented your being lifted into that office by the feeblest party four years from now.

It is probably too late; the rubicon has, perhaps, been passed, and you must take your stand rather with those who have sought power by indirection than with the nobler class who have clad themselves in immortality by renouncing it.

Surely it is unhappy that a man of honorable ambition, who has had this tide offered him in his affairs, should have chosen to be catalogued and classified with the schemers and plotters who are whispering to each other what I believe thundered to those other gamblers: "Lose not a single trick."

You have preferred to take your stand, not with Washington and Cincinnati, but with Packard and Chamberlain and the negro saloon-keeper of New Orleans.

Do you take The Sunny South?

If not, send for it immediately. It is the universal favorite, and all Southerners are proud of it. Let a large club be raised without delay in this community. It is the only illustrated literary weekly in the South, and the press and people everywhere unite in pronouncing it the equal in every respect of any similar publication in America. The best literary talent of the whole country, North and South is writing for it, and it has something new each week for all classes of readers. Its stories are superior in literary merit, and equal in thrilling interest, to those of any other paper, and its essays upon all subjects are from the best minds of the age.

In addition to thrilling new stories, a series of brilliant articles will soon begin on the CAMPAIGNS AND BATTLES OF THE ARMY OF TENNESSEE, by Col. LOXEL B. W. FROUKE, a distinguished military engineer of that army in all its trying times. These papers will explain all the movements of Generals Johnston Hood and Sherman. Don't miss any of the numbers. They will read like a fascinating romance.

New and exciting stories are beginning every week or two.

State and local agents are being appointed everywhere, but let each community form a club at once and send on for the paper. Having passed successfully through two of the hardest years we shall ever see, it now challenges the admiration and unlimited support of the people. The price is $3 a year, but clubs of four and upwards get it for $2.50. Address JNO H. SEALS, Atlanta, Ga.

We club it with the HARTFORD HERALD, and for $4.00 you can secure your home paper and our great Southern literary journal, both of which everybody in this community should sustain.
